

Come face to face with a challenge in Research & Development

P&G Career Academy presents: R&D European PhD Seminar

Are you a Ph.D. student in Science or Engineering, graduating earliest by end 2015?

Procter & Gamble's R&D PhD Seminar will give you the opportunity to experience the innovative world of our R&D organisation and practise the skills needed to be successful. You will do this via a series of exercises and case studies working closely with other International students and trainers from P&G.

Brussels Innovation Center, Belgium, April 20 - 23, 2015.

Accommodation, meals, and travel to and from the seminar are paid by P&G. Course language is English.
